RESUMEN

Este trabajo propone la composición musical para dos cortometrajes, "Spring" y "The Beauty of Cinema", disponibles en la página web The Cue Tube. El proyecto simula una dinámica profesional entre director y compositor, donde el profesor asume el rol de director y el estudiante el de compositor. El objetivo principal es aplicar los conocimientos adquiridos durante la formación académica y experimentar un escenario que refleje las exigencias del mundo laboral en la industria audiovisual. Este ejercicio permite al estudiante desarrollar habilidades prácticas en la creación de música para cine, enfrentándose a los desafíos y demandas típicas de un proyecto cinematográfico real.

Palabras clave: Composición para cine, música de película, animación, cortometraje, relación director-compositor, diseño sonoro, música original.

ABSTRACT

The following work proposes the musical composition for two short films, "Spring" and "The Beauty of Cinema," from The Cue Tube website. This project simulates a professional dynamic between director and composer, with the teacher assuming the role of director and the student taking on the role of composer. The main objective is to apply the knowledge acquired during academic training and to experience a scenario that reflects the demands of the professional world in the audiovisual industry. This exercise allows the student to develop practical skills in creating music for film, facing the typical challenges and demands of a real film project.

Key words: Film scoring, film music, animation, short film, director-composer relationship, sound design, original music.

INTRODUCCIÓN

Este proyecto final representa la culminación de un extenso proceso de aprendizaje y creatividad en el campo de la composición para medios audiovisuales. El trabajo se centra en la creación de la música para dos cortometrajes provenientes de The Cue Tube: "Spring" y "The Beauty of Cinema". Cada uno de estos cortos presenta un mundo único con su propia estética visual, lo que demanda un enfoque musical distinto y específico.

"Spring" nos sumerge en un universo de animación lleno de vida y colores dentro de un mundo fantástico y lleno de magia, mientras que "The Beauty of Cinema" nos invita a reflexionar sobre la magia del cine a través de una narrativa cautivadora. La composición musical para estos cortometrajes ha implicado un proceso de prueba y error al experimentar con nuevos acercamientos a la composición, orquestación, desarrollo motívico, interpretación y creación, con el objetivo de realzar la narrativa visual y emocional de cada pieza.

A lo largo de este trabajo, las decisiones compositivas para cada uno de los cortometrajes fueron únicas y específicas, adaptadas a las necesidades narrativas y estéticas particulares de "Spring" y "The Beauty of Cinema".

Para "Spring", las decisiones musicales se orientaron hacia una orquestación más clásica, aprovechando la riqueza y versatilidad de los instrumentos orquestales tradicionales. Esta elección estilística busca evocar una sensación de fantasía y magia, transportando al espectador a un mundo de ensueño y maravilla.

En contraste, "The Beauty of Cinema" requirió un acercamiento diferente, explorando las fronteras entre la música y el diseño sonoro. Para este cortometraje, la aproximación se centró en la creación de un paisaje sonoro más experimental, utilizando técnicas de síntesis, manipulación de samples y diseño sonoro. Esta elección estilística permitió jugar con los espacios creados por el diálogo del cortometraje, entretejiendo elementos sonoros que complementan y expanden la narrativa auditiva.

En las secciones siguientes, se explorará en detalle el proceso creativo detrás de cada composición, analizando las técnicas empleadas, los desafíos enfrentados y las soluciones encontradas para crear paisajes sonoros que complementen y enriquezcan la experiencia visual de cada cortometraje.

DESARROLLO DEL TEMA

Durante el periodo de verano 2023-2024 se desarrolló todo el trabajo final, dividiéndolo en dos partes para abordar cada cortometraje. La primera mitad se dedicó a "Spring", bajo la supervisión Manuel García. Tras la selección del corto, tuvimos una charla inicial sobre la paleta sonora deseada y una breve sesión de spotting para determinar los puntos clave donde entraría la música y su carácter.

Para el inicio de "Spring", se presentó el motivo principal o leitmotif, "una melodía o secuencia tonal corta y característica, recurrente a lo largo de una obra y que se identifica con un determinado contenido: personaje, concepto, idea, sentimiento" (Conrado, 2017). Este motivo nació principalmente de la inspiración de un sonido que aparece al comienzo del cortometraje, representando la magia que posee el personaje principal.

Uno de los mayores desafíos fue componer para la escena de la persecución, cuando la gema va cayendo por el bosque. Esta secuencia presentaba numerosos elementos visuales ocurriendo simultáneamente y varios "hit points". "Un hit point es un punto en el que un ritmo o golpe de la música se sincroniza con un fotograma o un acto específico del video para enfatizar ese preciso momento" (Forte Composer Academy, s. f.). Consecuentemente, el "Beat Mapping", "el proceso de ajustar una grabación al tiempo del DAW o cualquier otro patrón rítmico, mediante los puntos de edición generados por la detección de los picos del audio" (Beat Mapping, 2017), resultó ser un verdadero desafío.

El proceso creativo para "Spring" implicó un constante refinamiento de ideas, buscando la perfecta sincronía entre la música y los elementos visuales del cortometraje. Esta experiencia me permitió profundizar en técnicas de composición para animación y mejorar mi habilidad para crear paisajes sonoros que complementen y realcen la narrativa visual.

Para el segundo cortometraje, "The Beauty of Cinema", contábamos con menos tiempo, lo que requirió un proceso de composición mucho más ágil. Aquí tuve que afrontar el desafío de experimentar con nuevas formas de orquestación, ya que tenía poca experiencia previa con diseño sonoro, sampling y síntesis. El cortometraje demandaba el uso de cues más ambientales - secciones musicales diseñadas para crear una atmósfera específica o resaltar un momento particular en la narrativa.

Este enfoque fue necesario debido a que el cortometraje cuenta con un diálogo prominente, alrededor del cual tuve que componer cuidadosamente, jugando con los silencios para complementar la narrativa y los elementos visuales. Muchos de los sonidos se originaron en sintetizadores, aprovechando sus sonidos predeterminados como punto de partida. Experimenté extensivamente con efectos como tremolos (rápida repetición de una nota o alternancia entre dos notas) y delays (efecto de eco que crea repeticiones del sonido original), aplicándolos no solo a los sonidos sintéticos sino también a instrumentos más convencionales como cellos, violines y violas.

Esta exploración me permitió crear una paleta sonora única y diversa para el cortometraje. La combinación de instrumentos tradicionales con técnicas de producción más modernas resultó en un paisaje sonoro que complementa eficazmente la reflexión sobre la magia del cine que presenta "The Beauty of Cinema".

El proceso de composición para este segundo proyecto, aunque más condensado en tiempo, me brindó la oportunidad de expandir mis habilidades técnicas y creativas, empujándome a pensar fuera de los métodos convencionales de orquestación y arreglo musical.

A continuación, se presentarán las partituras y partichelas de ambas composiciones, ilustrando el resultado final de este proceso creativo.

CONCLUSIONES

Este proyecto de composición musical para los cortometrajes "Spring" y "The Beauty of Cinema" ha representado un viaje de crecimiento artístico y técnico significativo. A través de estos dos trabajos, he podido aplicar y expandir los conocimientos adquiridos durante mi formación académica, enfrentándome a desafíos reales del mundo de la composición para medios audiovisuales.

La experiencia de trabajar en "Spring" me permitió profundizar en la orquestación clásica y el desarrollo de leitmotifs, mientras que "The Beauty of Cinema" me impulsó a explorar técnicas más contemporáneas de diseño sonoro y síntesis. Esta dualidad en los enfoques compositivos ha Enriquecido enormemente mi paleta creativa y mi comprensión de cómo la música puede adaptarse y transformarse para servir a diferentes narrativas visuales.

Uno de los aprendizajes más valiosos ha sido la importancia de la flexibilidad y la adaptabilidad en el proceso creativo. Cada cortometraje presentó sus propios desafíos únicos, desde la sincronización precisa con elementos visuales en "Spring" hasta la integración sutil con el diálogo en "The Beauty of Cinema". Superar estos obstáculos no solo mejoró mis habilidades técnicas, sino que también reforzó mi confianza como compositor.

Este proyecto también ha subrayado la importancia de la colaboración y la comunicación en el proceso de creación audiovisual. Trabajar bajo la guía de mi profesor tomando el rol de director me ha proporcionado una valiosa perspectiva sobre las dinámicas profesionales en la industria del cine y la animación.

En conclusión, este trabajo final no solo representa la culminación de mi formación académica, sino que también marca el inicio de mi camino como compositor profesional para medios audiovisuales. Las lecciones aprendidas y las habilidades desarrolladas durante este proceso serán fundamentales en mi futuro profesional, permitiéndome abordar proyectos diversos con creatividad, competencia técnica y una comprensión profunda de la sinergia entre música e imagen.
