RESUMEN

Mi proyecto de tesis explora la creación de una identidad sonora única a través de la fusión entre la composición orquestal y las posibilidades expresivas del diseño sonoro y la síntesis electrónica. Motivado por la búsqueda de nuevas texturas y el deseo de expandir mi lenguaje compositivo, este trabajo se adentra en la experimentación como herramienta creativa, proponiendo una simbiosis entre lo análogo y lo digital. A quienes se interesen por los cruces entre tradición y vanguardia musical, esta tesis ofrece un recorrido profundo y honesto por los desafíos, aprendizajes y hallazgos de esta integración sonora.

Palabras claves: Filmscoring, composición musical, sound design, compositor, experimental.

ABSTRACT

My thesis project explores the creation of a unique sonic identity through the fusion of orchestral composition and the expressive possibilities of sound design and electronic synthesis. Driven by the search for new textures and a desire to expand my compositional language, this work delves into experimentation as a creative tool, proposing a symbiosis between the analog and the digital. For those interested in the intersections between musical tradition and innovation, this thesis offers a deep and honest journey through the challenges, discoveries, and insights of this sonic integration.

INTRODUCCIÓN

A lo largo de la historia del cine, el film scoring ha evolucionado desde el acompañamiento orquestal clásico hasta incluir recursos contemporáneos como la síntesis, el diseño sonoro y técnicas experimentales, ampliando así el espectro expresivo del lenguaje cinematográfico. Mi proyecto de tesis consiste en la creación de dos cortos animados con enfoques contrastantes en cuanto a composición musical. El primero busca rendir homenaje a las grandes producciones animadas de Disney, utilizando técnicas tradicionales de orquestación que evocan el estilo sinfónico de mediados del siglo XX, pero incorporando también elementos más actuales como sintetizadores y recursos de producción moderna, en un intento de equilibrar lo clásico con lo contemporáneo. El segundo corto, en cambio, representa un terreno más experimental: aquí trabajé con la técnica del found sound, manipulando grabaciones de objetos cotidianos para construir paisajes sonoros abstractos que dialogan con lo visual desde una lógica más sensorial que melódica. Ambos trabajos reflejan mi interés por expandir los límites de la música para cine y explorar nuevas formas de narrar a través

CONCLUSIONES

En conclusión, esta tesis se trata de una exploración creativa en torno a la música para cine, específicamente desde una perspectiva que busca integrar tradición y experimentación. A través de la realización de dos cortometrajes animados con enfoques compositivos distintos, se propone una reflexión sonora sobre los diversos caminos que puede tomar la narrativa audiovisual. El primer corto, con su enfoque orquestal clásico al estilo Disney, justifica el uso de grandes orquestaciones por su capacidad para evocar emociones profundas y estructurar la narrativa de manera clara y envolvente. La inclusión de sintetizadores y técnicas modernas responde a la necesidad de actualizar ese lenguaje sin perder su esencia. Por otro lado, el segundo corto apuesta por la libertad y la ruptura de convenciones a través del found sound, una técnica que permite construir significados desde lo sensorial, lo accidental y lo cotidiano, proponiendo así una nueva forma de escuchar y de contar.

Ambos trabajos justifican su existencia en tanto exploran posibilidades expresivas que enriquecen la música cinematográfica, y se sostienen sobre una búsqueda constante de identidad sonora. El equilibrio entre lo aprendido y lo descubierto, entre lo técnico y lo intuitivo, define no solo el resultado final de esta tesis, sino también el proceso de formación personal y artística que representa.
